Car Description

The original Porsche 993 Carrera 2 Cabriolet has a very elegant effect due to the combination of black exterior color and the black leather interior.

The vehicle was produced for the American market but was then converted in Germany to rest of the world standards. The vehicle has been in the Federal Republic of Germany since 2008. The interior has already been reupholstered in the past and the engine was completely resealed and overhauled in a renowned workshop two years ago, including Schrick camshafts and motoronic adjustment, and the entire transmission was also overhauled. As part of the extensive overhaul, a Bilstein PSS16 chassis and spacers were installed. The window frame was also derusted and the windshield replaced.

The vehicle has been maintained with a service record, tires were replaced in 04/23 and can be viewed on site here. TÜV and AU as well as a current valuation report can be recreated upon request. Carfax and a traceable history are of course available.
